

Health Care in the 2016 Election

Curious about the role of health care in this year's presidential election? Come learn about what is at stake in this election and where the candidates stand on health care. Ellen Montz and Emma Sandoe, Harvard PhD Candidates in Health Policy, have worked behind the scenes in Washington DC and will provide expert commentary on this year's race and the future of health care politics. Dinner will be provided.

When: Wednesday, October 12th 5:45PM

Where: 14 Story Street 4th Floor Classroom

Hosted By: GHHP & HGHI

Click here to RSVP. Space is limited!

